Here is my suggestion:

AquaPhix- I just noticed that I didn't put the price on the quote. It is $127 per jug you will need 8 jugs for 4 acres. This is not a recommendation, this is a must. The pH of the soil is 8.0-8.1 which is alkaline we will use this product to lower the pH to 7. That is the optimum pH to where your turf plants will be able to take up the nutrients needed to sustain a healthy turf field.

Athletic Field Mix- This is a good mix. It does not have the Myco Cote or the Water Star Properties.

Smart Seed Pro Athletic Field mix- Myco coated and Water Star Qualified. Which in a nut shell Myco provides bacteria that promotes faster germination and builds a stronger root system that you will need on an athletic field. Deeper root system that provides excellent drought tolerance which is where the Water Star comes into play. Less water.

70/30 Wood Mulch- This is a decent mulch that has decent moisture retention for the first stages of germination. You have to apply tackifier with this mulch because if a sudden down pour was to occur, you could have washing which could wash your seed to one location leaving other spots without any seed on them.

ProMatrix- This is a fantastic mulch no tackifier needed. It has excellent moisture retention needed for the first stages of germination. It costs more but is worth the money to only have to apply once.

Fertilizer-18-00-00 with 20% UFLEXX, this fertilizer has what is called stabilized nitrogen, allows for nitrogen to slowly release feeding your turf over a longer period of time.

22-00-06 with 25%UFLEXX same story as above this fertilizer just has a higher percentage of UFLEXX that allows for a longer period of feeding nitrogen. This mix also includes some potassium.

There is the info, so my suggestion is to use the Smart Seed Pro Mix, ProMatrix, Mulch, fertilizer is a throw up for me they are both great fertilizers one is just little better than the other, this suggestion is in my opinion the way to go I have seen these product in the field by far the best bang for your buck. Let me know your thoughts. Any other way I can help let me know.

Thank you,

Jeremy Hayhurst

It has been a long while since I contacted you in regards to the park, I wanted to provide an update as to what we have done and some things we are continually working on. Over the past 10 months we have done 6 service days at Spruce pine Hollow, a list of the different things we did are below. Our troop has camped out and used the park 4 times this year with plans to increase the use in the coming year. I am really in awe of the boys and the leaders and what they have accomplished... and the plans they have for the continual care of the park and campsites. I apologize for the delay in our communication I kept meaning to send a followup and time slipped away from me... but do know we have that park in our minds and now our hearts...

1. Repaired and cleaned out the tent pads for site 1 (2x) and the Adirondack/shelter on site 2
2. Cleaned and repaired fire ring site 1 (every time we are there)
3. Cleared paths from base at park all the way up to site 2 and around site 1 (litter and obstructions)
4. Cleaned and repaired signs in and around the park
5. Repaired and continue to repair fire pits/chimneys in the park area (maintain and cleaned pits frequently)
6. Cleaned up lower park area including pads of pavilions 6x (we do this every time)
7. Cleared away brush and branches and Raked leaves from park and trail (this spring)
8. Created log benches for site 1 to replace and add to some of the current seating

This is all I could remember, I am sure there is more... In addition to the things we have done we have a continuous plan of camping, hiking, and working at spruce pine hollow over the summer and we have noticed some very precarious trees looming over tent pads on site 1, we were wondering if you would be ok with us removing the trees that are a danger to the campers for safety reasons (there are not many). Scouts do not tend to remove trees however they are a safety concern not just for our scouts but for anyone that uses the site, we did not want to act without consulting you first. On another note the road coming through the park is riddled with potholes and is very hard on vehicles, if you were to provide us with a load of gravel we could make time to spread it into the holes and divots for you. This way they might not get worse and more people might come out and use the beautiful park. Let us know what you think about our ideas and please let us know of any updates and/or requests you may have. Thank you so much for the use of such a wonderful location. Please excuse my delay in sending an update.
